

All that's Yellow is not COTTOLENE

There's hardly a housekeeper in the country but has heard of COTTOLENE the new vegetable shortenings. It is a strictly natural product; composed only of clarified cotton seed oil, thickened for convenience in use, with refined beef suet, pure and sweet. So composed,

COTTOLENE

Was bound to win, and to drive out lard from the kitchens of the world. When housekeepers wish to get rid of the unpleasant features and results of lard, they should get COTTOLENE, taking care that they are not given cheap imitations with vegetable names, spuriously compounded to sell in the place of COTTOLENE.

It's easy to avoid disappointment and ensure satisfaction. Insist on having COTTOLENE.

FLESH EATING HARES.

A Skeptic Was Convinced When He Saw
One Marching Button.

Hare is a dish never seen on a Spanish table, because in Spain there is a superstition that hares in the night go into churchyards and dig up the graves and eat the dead bodies. A writer who spent some time shooting in Castile, where game is very plentiful, relates how he was convinced of the fact that the hares do eat flesh. He had been told so by the country people, but had treated their assertion as a ridiculous fiction. The next time he found himself in a party of sportsmen he repeated what he had heard as a joke, but to his surprise every one listened quite gravely and assured him that it was perfectly true. They themselves had frequently seen hares eating flesh. As he still expressed doubts on the subject, however, one of the company offered to let him buy 50 liters of wine that he (the German) should see a hare eating meat. The bet was accepted.

The next morning, very early, the Spaniard, the German and two greyhounds went out to a great heath to look for flesh eating hares. As they were sitting waiting for the hares to appear, the Spaniard, to the German's amazement, took a little live crab out of his pocket. "What do you want that for?" said the German. "To catch the hare with," replied the Spaniard. It struck the German that perhaps the Spaniard had brought him out merely to make a fool of him. But then he reflected that that was not the Spanish way with strangers. So he held his tongue and went on waiting. By and by a fine hare appeared. In a moment the two dogs were after him (they were well muzzled, so that they could not do him any harm), and in a few moments more the hare had disappeared again in his hole, and the dogs were barking at its mouth. The men got up and hurried after them.

"Now," said the Spaniard, "this is where my crab comes in." He pulled out the crab and put it down at the mouth of the hole, and it, glad to hide in the dark shade, crept in with all the expedition it could manage. The Spaniard instantly spread a large coarse sack over the entrance, and in a few moments out rushed the hare, terrified by its unexpected visitor, right into the sack. Home they went with their prisoner, which they placed in a cage. When the hare had recovered from his fright, he ate before the German's astonished eyes several pieces of the mutton which were thrown in.—Muenchener Zeitung.

IRON IN PHARMACY.

The pharmacopoeia has long recommended iron wire as material for iron preparations. Musical wire, being steel and therefore purer, is also often applied and yields sufficiently pure preparations. More lately there have been recommended for this purpose soft steel drillings as being cheaper, purer and not so difficult to dissolve as wire, which by the various processes of forging, hammering, rolling and final drawing becomes denser and harder.

The more impure an iron the quicker it will dissolve, but the same piece of iron or steel will more rapidly dissolve the less it has undergone the mechanical treatments in question. Thus, if the immense amount of mechanical labor be subjected to which an iron or steel bar is subjected in reducing its diameter to that of wire it is argued that soft steel drillings, shavings or turnings deserve preference. In a word, the turnings and drillings of axles and steel boiler plate, which can be obtained at any steel works or machine shop, are ranked among the poorest brands of iron, in the chemical sense of the word. According to experts, it may be considered a practical rule that any brand of steel capable of making good axle or boiler plate will also yield pure preparations on dissolving.—New York Tribune

A Family of Giants.

"The best evidence of the truth of the theory of heredity I ever saw," said T. E. Lucas to the coroner at the Lindell, "is a family named Walker, living in Mitchell County, N. C. There are at present seven brothers and five sisters, the lowest stature of any of them being 6 feet, which is the height of one of the girls. Her sisters run in regular graduation as to height—6 feet 1 inch, 6 feet 2 inches and 6 feet 3 inches. The tallest brother is 7 feet 9 inches, and the shortest 6 feet 5 inches.

"The mother is short, being but 5 feet 8 inches, while the father, from whom the children inherit their remarkable growth is 7 feet 2 inches. He is of a family of nine brothers, the tallest of whom is 5 feet in height and the shortest 4 feet, and all of them lived to a considerable age—the only one surviving, however, being the father of the sons and daughters mentioned. If the present family were arranged one above the other, they would be 7 feet 6 inches in height. It is said that all of the ancestors back through several generations were of like proportions.—Louis Glusk, Democrat.

Where He Belongs.

An Englishman tells the following old story as of something having recently happened. The Dartford magistrate sent a boy named Mac to a trout school to learn to fish, when upon this call he came.

Mac, being anxious to ask the father what he had done, said:

Charm me, sir, to church?
Dad, sir, I do, sir.
Can I do, sir, anywhere?
Dad, sir, I do, sir.
Charm me, sir, the boy go anywhere?
Dad, sir, I do, sir.
Charm me, sir, shall put him down as below, one to the church of England.

Not Up on Railroad Practices.
From the California Leader.

A ludicrous incident occurred, to the discomfiture of a juror at the Goodman trial at Middletown, last week. While the jury were at supper one evening one of the "back country" members got railed on the word, "wild cat" as applied to railroad parlance. After listening in open mouth intensity for a few moments he blurted out with this: "Why do they have wild cats over in Carbondale railroad yard?" Why don't they shoot the god darn varmints or trap them if they dodge among the cars so they can't be hit? Say, did it kill the 'frog' when the engine ran over it?"

Takes to Poughkeepsie for Final Interment.

Mr. James Ackerman, of Hopewell Junction, spent Memorial Day at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Louis Meyer. To-day the body of his daughter, the late Mrs. Meyer, was disinterred and taken to Poughkeepsie, where it will be laid to rest in the family plot where one of her sons is buried.

THE PRESIDENT COMING TO MIDDELTOWN.

The Sick May Receive Medical Services Free of Charge.

The President and members of the European and American Staff of German, English, Irish, Scandinavian and American Doctors of New York city will be at the Russell House, Middletown, on Tuesday, June 12th, one day only. The sick and afflicted may consult them without charge during their stay.

If you are throwable they will tell you; therefore wait no longer because if they are rejected, no one will be accepted unless there is a general outcry of a case being discussed. These Doctors are graduates of the best universities of Europe and America; they are of the highest standing in the medical profession and have had valuable experience in the treatment of all Chronic Diseases and Deformities. As the latest methods, instruments and appliances of the various schools of both the Old and the New World are familiar to and at the command of this staff of doctors, it is recommended to believe that in every case not of every kind a cure can be effected, even when the patient has been given up as incurable by doctors who have had no experience. Do not be disappointed because your doctor can not give you relief, or even if he tells you that you cannot get well, for it matters not what your doctor may say, you can consult the doctors here, and if capable, they will treat you; if incurable, they will give you good advice as will tend to prolong life and add to you the greatest comfort.

The doctor will visit Middletown one day each week. Other hours will be 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

A THREE-PART GAME.

PETALUMA, Calif., May 21.—All high water marks were beaten over yesterday afternoon when the river reached thirty-eight and nine-tenths feet above lower marsh. Report from the upper Columbia says such a rise of at least three feet above low water is expected today for about ten miles above the mouth of the Columbia and passengers due here last Saturday have not yet arrived. At least a camp was placed on the huge transverse bar which brought it to this city by water a distance of fifty miles.

TAKE WELL COMPARE WITH OXFORD.

NEW YORK, May 21.—It is now almost certain that Yale will send an athletic team over to England to compete with Oxford next month. The cost of the trip, however, will cause Yale graduates to promise to pay the team's expenses, and Oxford, it is expected, will consent that the Yale team will receive the gate receipts. The total cost of the trip is estimated at $10,000, and the money will be raised by a series of benefit performances.

CHARGE WITH KILLING HIS FATHER.

LEWISTON, Idaho, May 21.—Samuel Mock was indicted yesterday upon the charge of patricide. The victim being Elias Mock, aged 76, who was buried on Feb. 21, but whose body was exhumed at the instance of neighbors, marks of violence were found, and a coroner's inquest followed. The verdict was that Mock died at the hands of parties unknown to the jury, but rumors of a family fight have led to Mock's arrest.

HONORING THE BRAVE.

MEMORIAL DAY IN MIDDLETON AND VICINITY.

The Graves of Dead Heroes Decorated with Flowers and Fitting Ceremonies Commemorate Their Patriotic Interests Exercises at sunrise and Philadelphia Cemetery and at the Casino.

Although thirty years have passed since the war of the rebellion, when so many of the brave soldiers gave up their lives for their country, there is to-day, as much of patriotic interest in the observance of the day set apart for the decoration of graves of the dead heroes as there was when the memories of the war were fresh in the minds of the people and the hearts of those who lost fathers, husbands and brothers on the field of battle had not felt the healing influence of time. This fact was evident, yesterday, when at an early hour our citizens were about the streets making the final preparations for the exercises of the day. But, Middletowners were not the only observers of the day in the city for many people from the surrounding country came by train or wagon to participate and during the forenoon the streets presented a lively appearance, but in the afternoon business was suspended, and Sunday like quiet fell upon the town.

The delegation committee at an early hour placed the flowers that had been liberally provided by our people upon the graves of deceased soldiers, in Hillside and St. Joseph's Cemetery, in this city, and in Pine Hill and Philadelphia Cemetery.

At 8:30 o'clock, the line formed for parade on South street, right resting on Franklin Square, in the following order:

MYSTERY!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages.

But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that life is located in the upper part of the spinal cord, and that the brain is but a portion of the body, and so wonderful is this portion of the nervous system that even the pitch of a needle will cause instant death.

Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the functions of life are under the control of the nerve centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these nerves derange the organs which they supply with nerve fluid are also deranged. When there is no nerve fluid the organs do not function.

The great mistake of physicians in treating the disease is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which supply it with the trouble.

Two-thirds of chronic diseases are due to the unperformed action of the nerve centers at the base of the brain, not from a disease of the organ itself, but from the malfunctions of the nerve centers.

The great mistake of physicians in treating the disease is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which supply it with the trouble.

Dr. Niles' Restorative Nervine has been thoroughly studied by him for over 20 years, and has made many important discoveries in connection with it. This among them being the facts contained in the above advertisement. Now, if the medical treatments are wrong, all health, the climate, dullness, confusion, pressure, bummer, melancholy, insomnia, epilepsy, etc., etc., are nervous diseases, no matter what the cause may be.

Dr. Niles' Restorative Nervine is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principle.

Dr. Niles' RESTORATIVE Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct to Dr. Niles' office, 125 North Main Street, New York, on receipt of price, per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It contains another opinion not dangerous drug.

"ADAMANT" WALL PLASTER!

The New, Cheap Substitute for Common Plaster.

It is very hard and very adhesive; it does away with the warping and shrinkage of doors and windows, and the building is not saturated with water, which causes many difficulties in plastering. It is used in America, but it is more than twice as expensive, and in England and its superior qualities make it immeasurably cheaper; it saves several weeks or months for the building to dry out, it does not crack or fall apart in the rain, it is not affected by water, and it is a good plasterer; it is the only material with which repairing can be done easily and to stay.

UNCLE SAM'S WARSHIPS.

Fitting One of Them for a Cruise Costs a Small Fortune.

Furniture and supplies for Uncle Sam's new war vessels cost a mint of money. To fit out one of these ships for a cruise is a bigger job than equipping a first class hotel. Here is a floating fortress as long as two city blocks, with all modern conveniences and complete restaurant facilities, lighted throughout by electricity—a gigantic fighting machine and military barracks combined. Her steel walls, bristling with guns, shelter a small army of men. The New York, for example, has a crew numbering 450, besides 40 marines and 40 officers. To feed them all for a twelvemonth at the government's rate of allowance costs $60,000.

On going into commission such a ship must be furnished throughout, from the kitchen, which is as complete as that of a great city hotel, to the captain's cabin. She carries large stocks of stationery, hardware and apothecaries' goods, and is provided with tools for all sorts of trades. Every thing conceivable that may be needed for purposes of war and peace is supplied, because on the high seas no shops or factories are accessible. Usually the vessel is provisioned for only three months, because there is no room to stow more. The rations are purchased by the navy department and comprise such necessities as hard bread, cornmeal, oatmeal, hominy, flour, salt pork, beans, peas, rice, preserved meats, butter, coffee and tea.

Every man in the navy, from the last boy shipped up to the admiral, has an allowance of 20 cents a day for rations, which he may draw either in food or in money. The paymaster of the ship has charge of all the provisions, which are dealt out by his "yeoman," who is in turn assisted by the jack-o'-dust. The person last named attends to opening the barrels and packages. Coffee and sugar are served out once in 10 days, flour every ten days and meat daily. While in port fresh provisions are furnished, each man receiving one pound of fresh bread, 1/2 pound of fresh meat and one pound of fresh vegetables per diem. These take the place of the ordinary rations, only tea and coffee being provided in addition. The allowance is at all times so liberal that the enlisted men cannot possibly consume the whole of it, so they take part of it in cash.—Philadelphia Times.

Remarkable Stalactite Caves in Utah.

Two of the most wonderful stalactite caves in the world are located within the territory of Utah—one five miles south of Toquerville and the other 25 miles west of St. George. Neither is remarkable on account of size, and to the best of my knowledge the dignifying title of "caves" has never been bestowed upon either of the two. They simply come within the category of the wonderful because of the immense number of stalactites of various sizes and colors which depend from their roofs. The first, the one near Toquerville, is known as La Virgin and the other by the name of the Black Warrior.

The Virgin was discovered a few years ago by the contractor of an irrigating company, who was engaged in driving a tunnel through a mountain called "La Virgin Bench" for the purpose of tapping the river below. When the light was first let into this wonderful underground chamber, the effect is said to have been startling, the roof and floor glittering with cubes and points of crystal alum and the roof surrounded with millions of rau colored stalactites.

The "Black Warrior" cave is a counterpart of the Virgin and was discovered by miners at a point where their tunnel was 363 feet beneath the surface.—St. Louis Republic.

Tone of the treated fish.

In the northwestern part of Colorado

there is a large number of hundred square miles in which is literally a vast deposit of stranded fish of all sizes and shapes. These fish are—while containing fish remains—in about 10 feet in thickness and extend up and down the Colorado river for a distance of 150 or 200 miles.—Detroit Tribune.

SHOTS OVER AND OVER AGAIN

AN "ARGUS" MAN OFF DUTY AGAIN AT SEVERAL SPOTS.

BENNET DRAKE and the Argus—Drake for the Argus to cover—Drake in the Walkill—Sherriff's escort.

Roster Drake, of Green Church, happened into the drug office the other afternoon, when the paper was almost ready to go to press. The work of the day being over, the news was taken it easy, and the good reason, as he noticed the comfortable sit. Minutes that had seemed to give the men enjoyment out of their tragic place, became a deep sigh and exclamation, "Oh, that my life was as easy as that of you newspaper folk here." So when the local editor made answer, "Two corners a week is your limit. We write half-a-dozen stories every day," Roster, I know, was the ready reply, "but you see I try to live up to mine." And the local went on to say if he couldn't get on to a dog fight for the next day's paper.

The father of several daughters said to me, Tuesday, that he proposed to devote some of his time on Memorial Day to teaching his girls how to use a revolver. He went on to say that he had no hope or expectation of making them marksmen, but did insist that they should know enough about a revolver to be able to use one effectively if an emergency should ever arise when it is necessary to shoot. His idea was not a bad one. Too many women affect to believe that a revolver is such a dangerous thing that they imperil their lives by remaining in a room with it, and as far as teaching one, a matron would be preferable any time.

The argument ended the agony in their half of the ninth inning, Farroll getting first, being hit by the pitcher. MacLean sacrificed, Lawler hit safe but was forced at third by Geogel, but Dooley's long hit to right for two bases brought in Farroll and Geogel.

The Brightons managed to get two men on bases in their half, but Oberholz struck out R. Donaldson and Lawler's sacrifice of Kneller's long fly, ending the game.

The hitting was strong, and the fielding of both teams was very fine running comes. Dugan, Clinton and Lawler accounting every chance offered in the outfit. Mr. Fletcher seemed to the combination of every body and gave each man a fair share of the close decisions.

We are glad to say that it was a unanimous score, there being an absence of holding and bunting conditions, which so often marred this interesting position. Although decided, the Brighton won the good will of the spectators by their gentlemanly deportment and their happy way they played the game.

The following is the score in detail:

one of the years; but, making all due allowances, I think it may be reported as a fact, that the fishing in the Walkill has not improved, which is a little remarkable, for in the good old times of which my angling friends like to talk, the river was full of bats, blues and blues and there was not even a pretense of improving the fish, the number of which now exceeds a very substantial reference to those who have been led to a big mess of some kind of fish, or better not secured.

ASTYUNS VERSUS BRONKTON.

A game that was much enjoyed by a crowded audience—the 2d Annual Victorian, set the brightness against themselves Handsome.

A large crowd witnessed a very interesting game at the Astyuns, yesterday, the game being lively from start to finish and the result was in doubt until the last man was out in the ninth inning.

Owing to a mistake as to the time of the trains the Brightons did not reach here till 8:30 p. m., and play began at 8:50.

After the men were out in the first inning Geogel was presented with a base on balls, Dooley hit safe, and a foul of Oberholz's long hit to left brought in two runs.

The Brightons tried to repeat it and very nearly succeeded, a base on balls, an error by Geogel and a sacrifice hit by Batch, giving them one run.

In the fifth inning the Brightons took the lead, making three runs off three safe hits and a wild throw over Dooley's head. The next inning the Astyuns evened up the score. Safe hits by Dugan, Clinton and Farrell bringing in two runs.

The Astyuns ended the agony in their half of the ninth inning, Farroll getting first, being hit by the pitcher. MacLean sacrificed, Lawler hit safe but was forced at third by Geogel, but Dooley's long hit to right for two bases brought in Farroll and Geogel.

THE WORK OF LIGHTNING.

James and George Miller Sunday Morn. days dinner.

In addition to the damage by lightning during Monday's storm already mentioned, it is learned that at Zinc Works on the Knight & Johnson road, five cows belonging to J. G. Johnson were killed and one cow owned by James Miller, of Clinton.

A horse belonging to Landlord Harry, of the LaGrange hotel, was struck by lightning and killed.

B. J. Mallon, of the Mt. Eve Granite Company, lost a horse in a similar manner during the storm. Mr. Mallon had put out his team to the stable at Pine Island. When he went to harness them for his return to Goshen he found one of the horses lying dead in the stall with its neck broken. There was nothing to indicate that the barn had been struck by lightning and the supposition is that the animal became frightened at the thunder and plunging violently in its stall fell with the result above stated.

The barn of James Reid in West Division, town of Goshen, was struck and a horse and calf were instantly killed and the barn set on fire. Mr. Reid was in the building at the time and although prostrated by the shock recovered in time to extinguish the flames by the application of a few pails of water.
